
Do you have a Cheating Spouse?

This Expert shows you how to spot Financial Infidelity.

50% of you have committed financial infidelity and you're lying to your spouse about it! According to a new survey by Yahoo! Finance and research firm Decipher, about half of people in serious relationships have committed some kind of financial deception. Whether it's lying about the actual cost of a purchase, hiding it from your partners, secretly running up credit card debt, or even maintaining a secret savings stash.

Unabashed author Adryenn Ashley achieves the impossible: using laugh-out-loud humor she delivers essential financial and legal information so effectively, you actually get it. A Certified Divorce Financial Analyst, Certified Asset Protection Specialist, and Forensic Accountant, Ashley breaks down complicated financial issues, empowering couples to take crucial steps toward their own financial health.
